Abstract: This article is about the German language and the valuable experience of Germany. Learning this language is a way to get what you want. Why am I saying that? If you are interested in this article, this article is for you dear friends.

Key words: John Wolfgang Goethe, John L. Christoph, Friedrich von Schiller, 6,000 languages, Volkswagen Group, Bend.

Reasons:

In Germany: the opportunity to have a cheap and even free education is different from the rest of the European countries, as well as in the field of education. You will see this first in opportunities that is created for foreign learners. They pay for their neither bachelor's degree nor Master's degree in this country. You can say that why because the country's economy is so developed that there is not any need it. It is impossible to get much information and knowledge through free studying but this is not said this country. Because, despite the fact that you do not pay any money, you will be educated by experienced, highly qualified teachers. If we look through the internal education system of German, we will see a high level of accuracy. For a single school, it is divided into five stages. The transition from one stage to another requires an exam. Only graduated who pass the test will be able to move to the next level. In short, their training system is more valuable than any other country.

Most literature works have been written in this language.

It is a great deal of attention to literature in all developed countries and German is one of the most highly regarded areas in this field. German literature also has its own place in the world ranking. Moreover, we can find a lot of evidence for it from the past time as well. We can prove these facts with following information.

Every year, 80,000 books are printed in this language, and it is astonishing that almost 10% of them are translated into other languages and the rest of them are read some people who know this language well.

In addition, if many famous writers wrote their works in this language, it improves its fame and the place of it among other language. This language also has some not some lots of great writers such as John Wolfgang Goethe, John L. Christoph Friedrich von Schiller, Erust Theodor Amadeus Hoffmann, Grender Wilhem Grass, and others.

If I want to continue this list, it will go on too long. The Literature of Germany is getting more famous, so we should not learn this language, which combines the knowledge that is so useful and necessary for such insistence.

We all know that the current state of the English language is inadequate, so we need to know one of them. These two languages are English and German, and their Grammar structure is so alike that if you know English you will learn both of them easily. 80% of them are English speakers too. In addition to other European languages, even Russian word formation also very similar to this language. It would be clear from this that learning the language would be a challenge. So we have a lot of opportunities to learn this language.

Also, if we compare it with other languages around the world, this language has gained a worthwhile place and is even worthy of praise. As it is placed the 11th in the list of the world's most talked-about languages. There are more than 6,000 languages in the world, so this is not a bad result for this language. In addition, German is the most The third place in the list of languages to be taught so that its level of teaching is much higher than other languages in the world.

Whether you know or not, the German is the official language of the European Union. So we can see that this language has overtaken even English language. Now let's think of why we should not learn that language, which has so much success.

Nowadays, if the world loses momentum, it is impossible to stay behind. What we need to do to avoid being left behind and to go all the way is to learn the skill of a developed country. Many country's development depends on its industry development. Germany is one of the examples that can be modeled on this issue. And what we need to do to learn the secret of his development. Do we have to spend some time here and get it done? Or do we learn to read it online in Germany by reading it online and easily? But I want to mention that this language is the language of the greatest BRENDÉ in the developing world.

For example:

Volkswagen Group annual revenue is $ 260,028

The annual income of Daimler AG is $ 185.235

The annual income is $ 123.232

If we continue this list for a long time, we have just listed many of them. You see, we have to do what we can for development. You may not know the German language, but you want to make an agreement with this country. You will face many problems at this point, if you do not know it. So if you want to create BREND, which is famous for the world and will benefit from it. This language is sure to be the key to your luck.

5. Unlike other European countries, this country has created enormous opportunities for new visitors, different from many other countries where you can easily find a place to stay and time consuming. The main reason for this is that the price is low. Every time the development of the country is determined by the fact that its population provides the necessary rituals, so it has achieved quite substantial successes. It is the development of the agricultural sector of this country, and the country's agricultural sector can develop if it develops, as it is the key to the development of other sectors. You need to learn about the successes in this field. Specifically, black and livestock products and meat products are highly developed. It is one of the five largest countries in the world in the production of pharmaceuticals for livestock. And another important thing to note is that the products manufactured by the country are manufactured according to their quality. Therefore, the products in these countries are very few in the health hazard. They pay great attention to the production of natural products. We know that health around the world is one of the big problems, so I think the experience of this country, which has achieved great success in the field, should be learned all over the world and use it in its useful ways.

How can this be done? The easiest and easiest way is to study the language of this country and to read about its sources and literature. Without limitation, we have to distribute it all over the world because it is not only necessary for you and your country, but also for the world community.

On the other hand, this country is at the top of the globe. For example, if you look at the developed country, there are many problems with the environment because of the industry in those countries. For example, we can show examples of many countries such as China, the USA, and Russia. Looking at the ecology of these communities, we find that we can see incredibly irregular and harmful substances are emitted into the environment. One of them, China, is home to the largest part of the world's waste, despite the fact that most of the world's population lives in this country.

Are you interested in how Germany stays in clear environment despite high developed industry? This is a very ordinary to people who live there do not dispose their daily wastes at all, though it may seem small but the consequences are great too. In addition, factories and plants have been built at a distance away from residential areas. In this case, their damage is slightly less. In other country, these types of plants are near to populous place. Another reason for this is that the childhood of this country is brought up in a young age saying that environment is the most vital thing to save. The things that are not stipulated in the law are banned and they come to realize that from the very early age, and if we want to give this knowledge to our youth, we do not need to send them to that country, just teach them the language they know and master the skills.
