Abstract

This article is about developing the culture of reading books among our young generation. The culture of reading book is decreasing day by day because of the internet and other gadgets. In order to overcome this problem, we should teach our youth how to work on different books. And we gave some reasons and examples on this topic.

Key words: culture, book, generation, morality, behavior, education, high-cost, low-cost, develop, advancement, reader.

The dignity of a youth who is part of our lives is measured by what we do and what we have accomplished in this era. Everything that we obtain in this sense also depends on our country's development. To do this, our young people need to strengthen their knowledge and support for the advancement of the country through books. The first President of Uzbekistan, Islam Karimov, said in the "Future of Youth". This is the reason why we should not always say that young people are always in the public domain.

Some young people say that they do not want books to be muted, and that the book is a good thing to do. In our opinion, this is an Internet-based network and has its own rules. It is no secret that the Internet has been subjected to various types of information and prohibited videos, and that our young people are being poisoned by various ideas. Taking into account the fact that the young people of our country have a good idea of the future, they are creating great opportunities for young people.

We can use the definition of the Uzbek youth that they have a high spiritual, independent thinking and that they are immune to any idea. The reason is that today young people do their best to develop their interests, plan their plans, and strive for the same. The point of view is achieved through the reading books.

On January 12, 2017, our President Shavkat Mirziyoyev Miromonovich, in his decree "On the development of the book publishing and distribution system, the Book Promotion and Promotion Commission," published the books from publishing houses to low-cost regions, slow development of online ordering and delivery, as well as widespread use of e-books in public service.

These problems and shortcomings, as envisaged by the Decree, provide for the publication of books and delivery to the public, as well as the publication of the best literary works in the Uzbek language by translating the best works of Uzbek literature into foreign languages further expanded.

Publishing, distributing book products, reading books, reading culture the current situation, the current shortcomings, the errors have been clarified. Especially the publication of literature aimed at increasing the intellectual potential of artistic, educational, scientific, educational, youth, providing educational institutions with them, the works of national and international literary figures selection, translation, translation, and education.

The books for books are not being attracted sufficiently, and books are sold New books by specialized enterprises in educational institutions, libraries and neighborhoods special attention is paid to the promotion of presentations, increase the culture of reading, including the promotion of mass media propaganda is given.

The issue of further improving the book production and reading culture of the head of our state with deep-rooted meaning, a noble goal. Because the book is human the spiritual power of the people, the historical memory of humanity, and the future paths a torch that can give.

Therefore, in our country, the knowledge, the writing of books, the existence of the nation and why it is sacred concepts that show that they are capable. Abu Ali ibn Sina, Abu Rayhon Beruniy, Hundreds of thousands of thinkers such as Jaloliddin Rumi, Alisher Navoi, Zahiriddin Muhammad Babur the formation of the world, the recognition of the world, the discoveries that cannot be overlooked when the time comes but only through the book. It is scientifically-educated by these generations of today's generations.

The reason why they refer to a bottle is because of the books created by them.

The following is a book about Muhammad Jabalrudi, who created great works in the Oriental Origins.

It does not matter if anyone talks about it. He does not hurt his friend's tongue. He does not tighten his heart. She is so he does not think that he will be backbiting. He is so kind to you in his conversation. There are benefits that you cannot earn from such people. On the contrary, most people talk the person will suffer. As in the book, it is all knowledgeable that a friend is a friend of the past and the future. Therefore, they say, "The Book is the fort of wisdom."

In our country books, books, books, books, sacred books, psalms called the prisoners educated. The intelligentsia is the light transmitter, with its own efforts and activities as well as the providers of spiritual and social stability.

Those parents who have such parents give birthdays to their children, such as in last generations of mobile phones, cars, and so on. Often, we hear parents say, "The book is expensive, and my child can afford to buy books." However, how many books can be purchased for the amount of money you receive. The book is never too expensive. The greatness of our ancestors is also from the books, which they read. Another important aspect of the bill is the further development of the book distribution system and coverage of the broader population. This will lead to the repetition of books that serve to enhance the artistic and intellectual level of the population, especially young people.

Whether we are a friend or a close friend, regardless of who we are, how much better it would be if we gave him a good book and read the book. You will notice how much book changes in the culture of behavior, morality, and within the mind of a person who has the culture of reading books. We young people can take an active part in the reader's adventure, at least to be honored by the heart of our peers, which will be our greatest achievement.

At the same time, they are in high regard to increasing their interest in reading books writing essay on the subject "Uzbek language and literature" at the entrance examinations to educational institutions it is desirable to organize additional testing. Every year professional colleges and graduates of academic lyceums - about 550-600 thousand – enter the higher educational institutions it works. The essay will increase their responsibility for reading. Reading the book enriches our spiritual world, and it enhances our communication culture.

However, our Uzbek language is one of the richest languages in the world. During Pushkin 's entire creation 21 more than a thousand words, more than 20,000 words appear in Shakespeare's works. Spanish scholars Servantes's work contains about 18,000 words. Our great grandfather Alisher Navoi The number of words used in his works is more than 26 thousand. To preserve this great treasure and we need to read books to bring generations to life.

In conclusion we can say that developing the reading books does not belong to not only one person, parents or government, but also it belongs to our society. So all of us responsible for this process and we must not forget a thing which our future is in our youths' hand and their future is in our hand. Thus let's help each other for our country's future life.
